Italy Will Withdraw Occupation Of Corfu Before End Of Month

International Council Under Orders To Investigate Jan-
ina Murders

MUSSOLINI TO SEIZE FIUME

Direct Negotiations Between Belgrade And Rome Will Be Resumed

By Associated Press
Paris—Italy has agreed to evacuate
the island of Corfu before the end of the present month.

A statement issued by the interallied
council of ambassadors Friday says that the Italian government decided to evacuate Corfu on Sept. 27, the date fixed by the council for the conclusion of the Greek inquiry. Into the mas-acre of the Italian members of the Greco-Albanian boundary delimitation mission.

The international commission which will investigate the Janina murders leaves for Albania Friday under orders to conduct as vigorous an inquiry
as possible.

The ambassadors are understood to have decided on the day set for the evacuation. The commission of inquiry thinks Greece has not done everything in her power to bring the assassins to justice. Italy shall receive the deposit of fifty million lire made by Greece under the settlement
decided on by the council.

ANNEXATION OF FIUME

Paris—When Premier Mussolini declares the annexation of Fiume to Italy he will announce the withdrawal of the Italian troops from Porto Barros, the adjoining harbor. It is learned here from an authoritative quarter.
He will then give up any claim to that port, to Sussak and to the delta there which will be left to Jugo-Slavia.

This, it is stated, is the result of direct negotiations going on between Premier Mussolini and the Jugo-Slav government, which are reported at about the point of completion. Jugo-Slavia being satisfied to have a free hand in the development of the ports left to it.

Premier Mussolini's declaration of the annexation of Fiume was fixed for Saturday the fifteenth, according to previous announcement, and it is Saturday also that the time limit expires
on Mussolini's note to Jugo-Slavia which had been construed in some quarters as an ultimatum.

The latest developments appear to tend toward a settlement which will remove the Serbo-Slovenian crisis at one time threatening the breaking of relations and possible hostilities from the international field; as the Greco-Italian situation appears to have been removed.

Belgrade—The Italian charge d'affaires here informed the Jugo-Slav government Thursday evening of Premier Mussolini's desire that direct negotiations between Rome and Belgrade regarding Fiume be resumed.

No decision has yet been reached here but the resumption of negotiations on a fresh basis is considered possible.

ARTERIAL HIGHWAY SIGNS REACH CITY

Onida Will Be First Street To Have Stop Signals Placed
At Corners

The arterial highway signs ordered two months ago by E. L. Williams, city clerk for the city of Appleton,
have finally arrived and will be installed under the direction of the city engineer at once.

It is planned to have the street department employes start work on them next Monday, beginning at the corner of Onida-st and College-ave.
One of the busiest corners of the business section, and continuing down Onida-st. As the signs, it will be necessary to tear up the pavement
and encase the steel posts in cement.

The signs were purchased from the Lynn Culvert and Road Equipment company of Minneapolis and cost the city $5.44 each. One hundred of the signs were ordered.

Streets designated by the common council as arterial highways are as follows:

Pearl-st—Water-st to Lawrence-st.
Lawrence-st—Pearl-st to Onida-st.
Onida-st—Lawrence-st to Second-ave.
College-ave—Outagamie-st to Rankin-st.
Rankin-st—College-ave to Pacific-st.
North-st—Onida-st to Randall-st.

NEW YORK MAYOR SHOWS IMPROVEMENT IN HEALTH

By Associated Press
Saratoga Springs, N. Y.—With his temperature back to normal for the first time in several days, and pulse
and respiration more nearly normal, Mayor Hylan of New York, who is ill
here with pneumonia, was much better Friday.

GOVERNMENT OPPOSES RELEASE OF POTHIER

Washington—The government asked the supreme court Friday to reverse
the decision of the first circuit court of appeals directing the release of Roland R. Pothier, who had been held in connection with the death of Major Alexander P. Conkhite at Camp
Lewis, Wash., in 1918.

SHOCK FATAL TO SENIOR OF COLLEGE HERE

Nels Olson Electrocuted While Working For Traction Co.
At Kimberly

Nels Olson, 25, a senior at Lawrence college, was killed almost instantly shortly before noon today
when electrocuted while working on the Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat and Power company's lines on Dar-boy-rd just outside the village of Kimberly.

The youth was employed by the traction company as a groundman whose duty it is to assist linemen. It is said, and reports indicate that he came in contact with high-powered wires while on a pole. The charge snuffed out his life and caused him to fall to the ground. A Kimberly physician was summoned and pronounced him dead from the shock.

Olson's home is a Tannah, but he had been rooming at the Y. M. C. A.
this summer while working to earn his way through his last year of school here. He spent part of the summer at the cherry picking camps
at Sturgeon Bay and then accepted
work with the traction company.

Relatives at Tannah have been notified and it is supposed the body will be conveyed there for burial.

WEATHER MAN SAYS WARMER SATURDAY

Badger State Reports Coldest Mid-September Temperature On Record

By Associated Press
Milwaukee—Lowest mid-September
temperature on record in Wisconsin was reported from many points in the state early Friday when observers from the principal cities reported temperatures varying from 25 degrees at Wausau, to 40 degrees at Superior.

Simultaneously with reports of record cold came reports of heavy damage to crops still in the field, from frosts. The tobacco crop is especially affected. It was reported by W. F.
Stewart, forecaster. He stated his information disclosed damage extending from one third to two thirds of the standing crop. Some corn cut for silage also is reported damaged.

During Thursday night ice formed in several northern counties. The cold wave is reported moving eastward and will be followed by warmer weather
Saturday, according to the forecaster.
The temperature is expected to reach 55 degrees above zero Saturday.

Farmers are looking despairingly at their late potato crop and city residents expect that most of the winter's supply of potatoes will be shipped in this year from the south, as a result of the severe frost Thursday night.

The fact that there was hardly a frost left the plants more susceptible to frost. Potatoes, according to the last state crop report, were listed as about two thirds normal. Thursday night's frost, it is believed, reduced it to about one-half. If corn was affected much by the frost on Wednesday night, it was put to a greater test Thursday. Garden vines and flowers also withered considerably under the freezing temperature.

Shipping Board, Chamber Of Commerce And Private Oper- ators All Hold Varying Views On Merchant Marine

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright, 1923 by the Post Pub. Co.
Washington—Sale of a few government vessels to the Robert Dollar and Grace lines has revived the possibility that other private interests might find it worth while to make substantial bids for the merchant fleet owned by Uncle Sam.

As long as private interests realize the danger to their business permanently of having the government in competition with them they will seek to buy the ships, but thus far the proposals made by most of the private concerns have not been deemed sufficient. The sentiment of the shipping board has been opposed to the sale of ships at what might be termed "give away" prices. It is true that the shipping board insists that certain trade routes be guaranteed as a consideration of the sale and this, of course, enters into the question of whether a shipping company can make a profit on the line it seeks to establish.

OPERATORS WOULD BUY
The present operators of government ships who receive a commission which is shortly to be terminated by the board, and the American Steamship Owners' association have pleaded with the shipping board to make it possible for them to buy the ships out of the earnings of the lines in the next few years. This would mean, of course, that the government furnished the capital in the form of existing ships and would receive a return
on the investment only if the lines are profitable. The idea has not met with the approval of the board.

The shipping people, however, insist that something can be worked out whereby they will be enabled to buy government ships. They argue that their experienced personnel might otherwise be turned into the foreign shipping companies. The attitude of the shipping commissioners, on the other hand, is that they would not be justified in giving away government property at bargain prices and that the potential value of the government fleet must be reckoned in terms of what the government itself might yet be able to do by efficient operation of its subsidiary corporations which will consolidate various established lines.

COOLIDGE HOLDS OFF

President Coolidge, for some reason or other, has not been anxious to put the subsidiary corporation idea into effect quickly. President Harding proved it and was ready to go ahead.
Mr. Coolidge has seen fit to hold up the operation of the plan for further advice. He announced first the appointment of a special committee consisting of two cabinet officers, the chairman of the interstate commerce commission and a member of the house and senate. The members of the United States Shipping board looked askance at this procedure and began to wonder what the functions of the shipping board really were if matters of importance relating to shipping were to be submitted to special committees. The shipping board
incidentally is the creature of congress and is an independent commission unrelated to the cabinet departments in any way.

Mr. Coolidge heard of this murmuring and summoned the members of the shipping board to the White House where he explained he had intended merely to seek the advice of others beside the shipping board and that he wanted to be sure of the legality of the plan. The general council of the shipping board has passed on the legality but Mr. Coolidge wanted to make sure the department of justice also approved. Now word has come from the White House that if the legal opinion is favorable, the special committee will be asked to

COUNTY MUST RALLY QUICKLY TO JAP RELIEF

Churches And Organizations Are Appealed To In Campaign For Funds

Red Cross branches, churches, lodges, benevolent bodies, other organizations and individuals are being appealed to in Outagamie-co in order that the local quota may be raised for relief of the suffering Japanese people.

This county's quota is $2,500, as requested by the American Red Cross and only $126.50 has been obtained to date. The county has a long ways to go in doing its share with the rest of the United States in its effort to alleviate the suffering caused by the earthquake, tidal wave and conflagration that devastated Tokyo, Yokohama
and other cities of the orient.
Some of the churches will take special offerings Sunday. It is the hope of the local relief committee that others will do likewise. Most denominations have missionaries in this area and who knows but what contributions given here will be of some help to some of our own people?

"I" IS HELPING
The Y. M. C. A. organization of the world has been ordered by Dr. John R.
Mott to turn its attention toward relief and help obtain the millions of dollars needed to buy food and clothing and provide shelter and medical aid, as well as taking care of the burial of a multitude of dead.

People living here in plenty and comfort have difficulty in appreciating
the horrible condition across the Pacific. It is no more than right that we should give a small part of our means to those who thus are stricken,
for no one knows when our own locality might figure in a catastrophe of some kind when we would be glad to obtain help ourselves.

SEPT. 22 LAST DAY

The county relief committee has set Saturday, Sept. 22, as the last day on which contributions will be received.
It is hoping the goal will be over-subscribed. The original estimate of $5,000,000 for the nation now is only the minimum for a much larger sum needed for relief. The devastation is beyond all comprehension and will take large amounts of money to undo.

If your heart melts in sympathy for these people, make your gift at once, while it will do the most good. Checks should be made payable to Japanese Relief Fund. Payments may be deposited at the chamber of commerce or the Post-Crescent.

START PROBE OF NAVAL DISASTER

By Associated Press
North Island, San Diego, Calif.—The
naval board of inquiry into the wrecking of seven destroyers of the United States fleet at Honda Saturday opened here Friday. A preliminary session now is being held to decide questions of policy, including that of whether the investigation of the dis-patchment shall be open to the press.

Post-Crescent To Stage "Fight Party" Tonight With Wire To Ringside

At 7:30 tonight (Appleton time)
Jack Dempsey and Luis Firpo
will start exchanging blows at the Polo Grounds, New York city,
in a boxing bout for the heavyweight championship of the world and Appleton will know all about what's going on in the ring
a second after it happened in Cochran.

The Post-Crescent will be connected with a direct wire from the ringside and as fast as the blows are struck the crowd that gathers in front of The Post-Crescent office will be given the story of the scrap blow by blow

through a Magnavox borrowed for the occasion by Irving Zuehl-
ke. Appleton-st from Onida-st to Lawrence-st will be barricaded
and closed to traffic during the fight so there may be a minimum of noise and confusion.

Sidelights on the crowd and the results of the preliminary bouts
will be given out before the big follows look horns in what is termed "The Battle of a Century."

Better be on hand early. Standing room will be at a premium and the late comers may have trouble getting an "earful."

U. S. POWERLESS TO DEMAND BERGDOLL

Secretary Of War Weeks Says
Slacker Not Entitled To Return Of Property

By Associated Press
Indianapolis—Grover Cleveland
Bergdoll, wealthy cigar slacker,
who has been off in every way had he remained in the United States, in the opinion of Secretary of War John W.
Weeks, Secretary Weeks made the assertion in a letter to Lemuel Bolles, national adjutant of the American Legion, which was made public Friday. Secretary Weeks declared that Bergdoll would be compelled to serve his full prison sentence if he returns to this country, no matter how many years intervene. He added that being a fugitive from justice, the man is not entitled to the return of any property or money taken from him under the provisions of the trading with the enemy act.

The letter from the secretary of war
was in reply to a communication from legion officials asking whether there is any real desire on the part of those having the power to do so to actually bring this man back and make him serve his sentence.

"The right of Germany at the present time to refuse to surrender Berg-doll is undoubted," Mr. Weeks said in his letter. "The expedience of compiling with a request that he be surrendered assuming such a request
were made, is a matter for Germany alone to decide. Were the United States in a legal position to demand
the surrender of Bergdoll there would be, I am sure, no hesitancy on the part of this or any other department of the government in taking steps to that end."

NEW GAS MASK STANDS TEST SUCCESSFULLY

By Associated Press
Seattle, Wash.—In a two hour test
at the University of Washington, a self-rescuer gas mask for use in mines was reported successful. The test was made in a room in which the exhaust of a motor truck was piped. In this room, where the air contained one per cent of carbon monoxide, men remained forty minutes, wearing the mask, and suffered no harm, according to witnesses.

OKLAHOMA HEAD CARRIES ON IN WAR ON KU KLUX

Governor Walton Threatens
Further Military Operations
To End Mob Rule

By Associated Press
Oklahoma City, Okla.—New military operations threatened Oklahoma Friday in the war between Governor J.
C. Walton and the Ku Klux Klan over mob floggings.

These were the outstanding developments in the situation:

1—Muskogee faces martial law unless
W. R. Sampson resigns as exalted Cyclops of Muskogee Klan No. 3, together with his secretary. Governor Walton's ultimatum expires at six o'clock Friday night. Sampson announced that neither he or his secretary would heed the ultimatum.

2—Tulsa-co will be taken over completely by troops unless Sheriff Bob Safford, Police Commissioner Harry Kiskaddon, and the three members of the county jury commission resign within the next few days. Peace negotiations between Tulsa business men and Governor Walton have broken down.

3—Oklahoma City and Oklahoma-co
are next in line for martial law, according to Governor Walton.

4—Military censorship will be clamped down on every newspaper in the state that continues to "incite riot" and print matter tending to cause trouble. Governor Walton announced.

5—State investigators are running down flogging cases in a number of counties.

PAPER TO SEEK INJUNCTION

Tulsa.—The Tulsa Tribune
announced Friday it would apply for an injunction in United States district court to prevent Governor Walton from interfering with publication of the paper if the executive carries out his threat to establish military censorship over its new columns.
No censor had appeared at the Tribune office Friday morning by the time first edition went to press, although Adjutant General Markham,
commanding Oklahoma National Guard troops enforcing Martial law
here said one would be placed on duty
later in the day in conformance with the governor's orders.

The Tribune denies Governor Wal-
ton's statement that the newspaper has "acted against the state's military investigation of masked activities in Tulsa-co."

JUSTICE CAN'T SEND BOY TO PENAL SCHOOL, RULING

By Associated Press
Madi-on—A justice of the peace in Crawford who sentenced a boy to the Wisconsin Industrial school for boys exceeded his authority, J. E. Messerschmidt, assistant attorney general, held Friday. He advised the board of control that a justice of the peace
may not legally commit boys to penal institutions.
The new involved should be remanded to the sheriff for return to the justice of the peace who will then transfer his case to the juvenile court,
the attorney general's department
held.

REVOLT LEADER ASKED TO FORM NEW MINISTRY

New Elections Not To Be Held
While Present Conditions
Prevail

KING REFUSES TO INTERVENE

Communication Cut Off As Strict Censorship Is Established On Border

By Associated Press
Madrid—The Spanish cabinet resigned Friday morning. King Alfonso has returned to the capital.

The newspaper, A. B. C., says it understands that Primo Rivera, Captain-General of Barcelona and leader of the military movement against the government, will preside over a directory composed of competent officials who will assume charge of the various ministries. Remaining civilians of proven capacity and independent of politics will be sought to form a cabinet to replace the directory.

The king reached the city at 2:15
A. M. He was greeted at the railway station by the captain-general of Madrid, members of the cabinet, prominent members of the military establishment and other notables.

On leaving the station he proceeded to the palace where he held a conference with Premier Alhucemas.

It is understood that the premier requested the king to grant the government facilities for punishment of the military revolters in Barcelona and elsewhere. The king refused and the premier submitted the resignation of the cabinet.

KING SUPPORTS RIVERA

King Alfonso Friday afternoon asked Captain-General Primo Rivera, leader of the military movement against the Alhucemas cabinet, to form a government.

It was announced by Captain General Munoz Cobo of Madrid, who is charged with the maintenance of public order, that a proclamation of martial law was necessary.

The A. B. C. says the present program is to govern without parliament
which will be dissolved. The elections will not be held as long as the present political conditions prevail.

RIVERA WILL SUCCEED

Paris—A Spanish naval squadron has arrived at Barcelona and it is understood that the Admiral has received drastic orders to put down the revolt headed by Captain General Primo Rivera, says a dispatch to Le Journal from San Sebastian.

King Alfonso, accompanied by Jose Sanchez Guerra, the former premier, left for Madrid Thursday evening, the correspondent asserts. He adds that the prevailing impression at San Sebastian is that Rivera will succeed in overthrowing the government.

All communication with France by telephone has been interrupted since Thursday morning and the strictest censorship has been established.

ARNOLD TAKES STAND IN TRIAL FOR FRAUD

By Associated Press
Superior—Victor H. Arnold, former head of the Madison Bond company,
believes Friday as he did in April 1921,
that funds of the company to the extent of between $200,000 and $300,000
had been embezzled by employees, he declared Friday morning as a witness on the stand in federal court here in defense of the government charges against him of using the mails to defraud.

Declaring that the effect of the interference of Marshall Cousins, former state banking commissioner, into the affairs of the Madison Bond company
had shattered all his hopes and plans, Arnold offered no apology for his famous "skunk" letter when questioned
by attorneys.

GRAASS DECISION WILL BE APPEALED

Green Bay—Immediate action on an appeal to the supreme court from the decision of circuit Judge Henry Graass who Tuesday refused to grant an injunction restraining the Northland Hotel company from adding a tenth story to its hotel here will be asked for at Madison next Tuesday. District Attorney R. E. Evans announced Saturday.
Work of the disputed story was begun
prior to the disputed story was begun
Thursday night, according to E. H.
Brubaker, superintendent.
In his decision Thursday, Judge
Graass held the law unconstitutional

equal application.

TROUT HATCHERIES NEAR TO STREAMS ASKED BY WALTONS

Green Bay Will Push Plan To Prevent Emptying Waters Of Game Fish

The Isaak Walton league chapter of Green Bay is about to circulate petitions to the state conservation commission for the establishment of several fish hatcheries near northern trout streams.

Indifference of official Wisconsin toward maintenance of trout streams was deplored at a recent meeting of the chapter. Speakers emphasized the increasing sterility of northern waters under the tremendous drain of a large tourist traffic. They also condemned the state for laxity in protecting what fish remain.

In northern Michigan 30,000,000 brook trout alone were planted, it was pointed out, although Michigan streams as natural refuges are far inferior to wonderful natural waters of northern Wisconsin streams, especially the Peshtigo and its tributaries in the Menominee Indian reservation, and the north and south branches of the Oconto. All these streams are being fished out or polluted so that within the next ten years it is almost certain that trout will be nearly extinct. It was held. To obviate that, establishing of fish hatcheries is proposed.

Pollution of streams was decried, the speakers maintaining that means of disposing of the waste of packing plants, paper mills, and sugar refineries with out dumping it into the rivers had been proven efficient, but that the state allowed these industries to continue polluting the streams.

Appleton Is In C. Of C. Fire Prevention Race

An invitation has been extended to Appleton Chamber of Commerce to participate in a nationwide fire waste contest among civic and commercial organizations. Suitable awards will be made to the organizations receiving the highest rating in fire prevention activities during 1923. The contest will be retroactive to Jan. 1, 1923.

Members of commerce are classified according to the size of cities, such as 100,000, 50,000 to 100,000, 20,000 to 50,000, and under 20,000 population. This classification is made because the average fire losses are lower in the smaller cities and the scope of fire prevention activities is often dependent upon the size of the community.

Judgment and rating will be made on the following basis: Actual accomplishments in reducing fire loss 40 per cent; educational activities, 30 per cent; permanent improvements in protection and construction, 30 per cent. In addition a grand prize will be awarded to the chamber with the highest rating, regardless of classification.

In connection with the observance of Fire Prevention week from Oct. 7 to 13, Elliott H. Goodwin, vice-president, in a letter to local secretaries says: "Fire last year claimed almost half as many Americans as were actually killed in battle during the World war. Our property loss for the same period would have paid over half the interest on our national debt. Yet our fire losses this year are higher than ever."

Appleton Chamber of Commerce and the local fire department are cooperating in an effort to reduce the fire hazards and prevent fires in Appleton.

121,966 TONS OF COAL TO VALLEY

The amount of coal shipped up the Fox river from Green Bay thus far this season is already far greater than that shipped last year, according to the records of the customs house at Green Bay. The stations along the river have received from that port 121,966 tons of coal. The amount shipped last year was 79,231 tons.

One of the reasons for this great difference is due to the fact that for the greater part of the summer of 1922 the Fox river was un navigable from Green Bay to Little Rapids. Shipping ceased on June 19 and was not resumed until the middle of September.

HUNTERS READY TO INVADE MARSHES

Streams Will Be Crowded When Duck Season Opens Sunday Morning

Outagamieco hunters are making final preparations for the opening of the hunting season next Sunday morning. When the sun rises on that day streams will be thick with hunters looking for wild ducks.

Guns are being polished, boats are being calked, decoys are being painted and the rest of the hunter's paraphernalia is being put in order and made ready for the first duck that ventures forth after sunrise Sunday morning. It will mark the opening of not only the wild duck, mud hen and goose season, but the season on plover, jack-snipe, rail, rice hen and other shore birds. There will be no open season on woodcock, however.

The office of John E. Hantschel, county clerk, is crowded these days with prospective hunters coming for their hunting licenses. "It is expected that Saturday, the day before the opening of the duck season, will be busier than usual. The office will be open only in the forenoon."

U. S. TRADE FOR LAST YEAR SHOWS $38,000,000 PROFIT

Washington—The United States had a $38,000,000 favorable trade balance last month. The commerce department announced Thursday that total exports in August are $313,000,000 compared with $275,000,000 compared with $271,000 and $251,376,000 respectively in August of last year.

Lovers Should Stand By Until Hunting Ends

Aren't there a lot of inquisitive persons in this world? That's what a certain couple thought, as it left the courthouse after an amusing incident in the county clerk's office one day this week.

With all the questions to be answered, every candidate for matrimony has a series of ordeals to pass through. First the lover assumes the role of catechist himself and "pops" the all-important question to the girl of his heart. After the girl has successfully passed the examination she sentences her fiancé to carry the investigation further to her papa and mamma. The old folks then take notion to make a few inquiries themselves.

That is only the beginning, for the prospective bridegroom now must wend his way to the office of the physician. The medical examiner leaves practically no question unasked, claps his O. K. upon the couple's timid venture and bundles them off to the county clerk. After the clerk's quizzing, the couple is ready for the minister's questionnaire, and then—forever after—they keep their mouths shut.

What we started out to say was that the couple referred to thought a question or two at the county clerk's office somewhat superfluous, especially when Miss Mollie Pfeffer, deputy clerk, started off with asking "Name?" "Age?" "Height?" "Weight?" She corrected herself when she found that

100 PUPILS FOUND FAULTY IN SPEECH

There are more than 100 children in the grade schools in Appleton who have defective speech, according to information obtained by Miss Pauline Camp of the state department of education, who has just finished a survey in Appleton schools. The children who have anything wrong with their speech development will be taught in their district schools by Miss Anna Sullivan, who has been hired for this purpose.

Until this year these children whose she was following the questionnaire prescribed for hunting licenses, which in this case was too late, as the hunter had already caught his "deer."

CONSISTENCY IN GIVING AID

Sunday morning the Falck hotel in Seymour was badly damaged by fire. The Appleton fire department responded promptly and gave valuable aid in subduing the flames. It made the run to Seymour in 38 minutes. That the Appleton department responded in this instance is to be commended. It is entirely right and proper that they should do this. It shows the right spirit toward our neighboring towns. As yet we have heard no protest and there probably will be none. Even though it is quite evident that the department must have violated the state speed law of 30 miles an hour, there have been no charges filed and none are expected. Regardless of the speed and the fact that it took city property out of town it was a commendable piece of work and shows the right attitude toward a community in distress. Gratitude for this act has been expressed by the mayor of Seymour in an open letter addressed to Appleton city officials.

One night last week a citizen and business man of Appleton was held up at the point of a revolver on the Lake road a short distance from our city. His valuables were to have been taken from him, his life was endangered. Highwaymen were at large in the community, and life and property were at stake. A hurried call was sent to the city police department, but it could not respond because of a recent criticism by city authorities of the police car being used out of town.

In the instance of the Seymour fire the distance was approximately 25 miles from Appleton. The city property taken on the trip was valued at many times that of the police car. There was undoubtedly violation of speed laws in transit, but all this does not matter as considerable property was in danger of being consumed by fire. It was entirely right and proper.

In the instance of the hold-up the distance was but a few rods from our city limits. The police car could have been on the scene almost immediately. But the saving of property and perhaps the life of an individual does not matter. The community is not endangered by the presence of bandits and highwaymen. Property in our community is to be more carefully protected than life. It is more precious, perhaps, but we are unable to see it.

We have this contrast in giving aid and protection through a narrow-minded, short-sighted policy on the part of city officials who have seen fit to question the use of the police car outside the city limits of Appleton, and have apparently endeavored to place the police department in an unfavorable light by such so-called "misuse."

Public policy demands that individual property and life in our community be protected. Protection cannot be limited to property alone. Public policy, we believe, also demands that the use of the police car in giving aid outside of Appleton be left to the judgment of police officials with instructions to act when the welfare of the community and its citizens seems to justify it. Such authority should be given the department before more serious happenings than that of the other night occur. Let's be consistent in giving aid.

THE STATE BUILDING LAW

Judge Graess at Green Bay has held unconstitutional the law enacted by the last legislature regulating the height of buildings in Wisconsin. We think his reasoning and his conclusions are sound. The law limits the height of buildings in Milwaukee to 125 feet and in the rest of Wisconsin to 100 feet. This, Judge Graess holds, is an unreasonable exercise of police powers by the legislature and his argument in support of this proposition is convincing. He says the law is an infringement of property rights. There is no question about this. The only question is whether the infringement, which in many instances amounts to confiscation, is justified on grounds of public policy. On this point we believe it is far from justified. He also contends that the law is illegal because it discriminates between Milwaukee and other Wisconsin cities. This is a technical issue and one on which the supreme court will be less likely to coincide than on the other points the lower court raises. Nevertheless, it may be well taken.

It will not be denied that the legislature has the power to pass police and other regulatory laws of the nature of the act limiting building heights. Such laws should, however, stand the test of reasonableness, and should not trespass upon the personal and property rights established by the constitution. They should not be discriminatory and they should not violate the fundamental guarantees of equal protection under the law. A reasonable regulation of building is of course a matter of opinion. It cannot be set down arbitrarily. It manifestly would be unreasonable for the legislature to prohibit the erection of buildings more than 40 feet high. The supreme court would not uphold such a law. We can hardly conceive of the supreme court of New York sustaining a law which attempted to limit the height of buildings in that state to 100 feet, when New York city has buildings more than 600 feet high and where buildings of 200 and 300 feet are no longer considered in the skyscraper class.

The right to go up in the air should obviously be restricted only when its exercise exceeds the limits of safety or tends to produce other effects contrary to public policy. It is a question which should be left to the judgment of the governing bodies of cities. The factors which enter into the question vary greatly and vary with the city. Much depends upon the thoroughness of building inspection, of natural foundation conditions, of problems of congestion, etc. The character of fire protection afforded by a city should not govern. Fire protection should be made to fit conditions, including construction, rather than the reverse. Ground values depend upon the uses to which the ground may be put. Public and commercial convenience depends upon the same thing. It would be wrong to arbitrarily interfere with the natural and economic development of building except for the soundest and best of public reasons. No such reasons exist in Wisconsin cities when applied to restrictions embodied in the act referred to. It is an absurd law viewed from any and all standpoints. Moreover, it was enacted solely to protect the esthetic qualities of the capitol building at Madison, which is enough in itself to condemn it. There is a way to accomplish this without inflicting a penalty upon the entire state. The law is arbitrary and unreasonable. It is greatly to be hoped the supreme court will take the view of its unconstitutionality so well expressed by Judge Graess.

IS IT NOURISHING

One of the most serious popular errors in infant feeding is the notion that if any article or any kind of food or any formula "agrees" it is the proper thing to feed the child. This notion is in part responsible for a great deal of malnutrition and rickets and other disorders from improper feeding.

A companion notion which is potentially as harmful though more frequently operative in the feeding of older children and adults, is that anything which is "very nourishing" is therefore good for one to eat under any circumstances, and anything which is "not nourishing" is by the same token unfit to include in the diet. These ideas mislead a lot of people who have no discrimination as to the sources of their information upon matters of food and nutrition. The number of books about diet and foods, by authors who are utterly unqualified, is legion.

The growing popularity of wheat bran in the daily ration, and the universal experience of benefits from the use of this article of diet, somehow fail to impress those who caution against the use of bran because it is "non-nutritious" and because it will "irritate" the digestive tract—both imaginary notions retailed as though they were facts. I'll say no more of bran now, since we are not discussing bran, save that the best scientific authorities at present assure us that wheat bran is fairly nutritious food for man as well as for the lower animals, that man ordinarily gets and utilizes considerable of the nutriment of wheat bran, whether he eats it separately as bran raw or cooked, or with the wheat with which it grows.

A mother hesitates to allow her 3 year old daughter chocolate candy whenever the child desires it, although grandma—the old, old story, mother and grandmother at odds on child raising—grandma assures her that chocolate candy is very nourishing; therefore the child should have it whenever he wants it.

Sure, chocolate candy is just as nourishing as bread, potatoes, sugar or beans. But that is a very poor reason for allowing a child to have it whenever the whim strikes him. Candy is wholesome food for a child; every child from 3 years upward should have a reasonable amount of pure candy in his play ration. But this sort of food is properly fed as a dessert only, not at irregular periods of the day; for if a child is allowed to have such food between meals or within an hour or two before regular mealtime his natural appetite for more essential or at least as essential items will fall, and the ultimate result will be a poorly nourished child.

Some chocolate or other pure candy, two or three days a week by way of dessert, is a fair and healthful allowance, I think. Sugar, whether in candy or other form, is easily digested and quickly convertible into muscular energy to supply the requirements of the active child, both the heart muscle and the skeletal muscles; let us not lose sight of this fact in the hue and cry raised against sugar candy for children by some of the old timers.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Fallen Arches

What would you advise for fallen arches?—A. L. D. Answer—Send a stamped addressed envelope for advice about the care of the feet, proper footwear, exercises and general hygiene.

Gallstones

I have been having pains in the region of the gallbladder for two years and have been doctoring for gallstones. I am thinking of having them removed by an operation. One doctor has been trying to dissolve them with medicines, and he says that if I have them taken out they will come back. Is that so, or can they be dissolved with medicines?—Mrs. H. E. C.

Answer—Although there are still a few medicines purporting to dissolve or remove gallstones, of course that can't happen. There is nothing about an operation which will prevent new gallstones from forming in the ducts of the gallbladder afterward, but on the other hand there is nothing about the operation which renders the patient any more liable to that than any of the rest of us.

New Hierarchy
Reveals Itself
Following War

(Francesco Coppola, in Politica, Rome.)

Among the victors in the Great War there are two gigantic international powers: the United States of America and Great Britain, both of whom waxed greater as a result of the war, both of whom aspire to world-hegemony which they have already largely realized. Among the vanquished, on the other hand, there is the formidable Teutonic force—beaten, disarmed, mutilated and compressed but not destroyed; a force that is passionately waiting and preparing for revenge and that will sooner or later renew its weighty pressure upon the Rhine and the Alps, toward the Atlantic and the Mediterranean. Again, these are the enormous Russian empire, Eurasian as it is, defeated and prostrate today but destined sooner or later to become aggressive again, terrific in the strength of its Asiatic alliances and to compete in the European and world struggle for power. Moreover, there is Islam in its national, revolutionary and fanatical revival, fretting and fermenting from Morocco to India against the predominance of the west. Finally, there is a more or less concrete German-Bolshevist-Islamic coalition, aiming not only to drive Europe out of Asia and Africa but to be-leaguer her, so to speak, in her own positions, enclosing her in a semi-circle from Riga—or even from Hamburg—down to Tangiers. Any of these tremendous forces, agglomerations of forces, represents more than a political, economic and military force, whether friendly or otherwise. Each of them represents a mentality, a culture, a moral, religious, and social hierarchy—in short a civilization.

CHI TO LONDON FOR ONLY $5

London—Take it from Ernest Watts you can travel just as far and almost as fast for five dollars as old John Dollars Doughbag can for five thousand—and have more fun in the bargain.

Ernest is an authority, because he traveled all the way from Chicago to London, did four thousand miles in 14 days and only spent five bucks.

The kid, who is 16, lives with his parents at 7415 Sheridan-rd., Chicago. His father is an architect, but Ernest, who wants to be a minister of the gospel, has been making his own money for years.

"The rules for cheap traveling," said Ernest, "are few and easy: 'Just start out when the wanderlust seizes you.'"

"Don't worry. Things will come out all right."

"Trust to the good nature and the generosity of the people you meet. The min-run of folks is all O. K."

"And don't forget your toothbrush."

"Now my uncle is going to lend me his bike and I shall use it to get down to Dover, work my way over on a boat crossing to France and then pedal to Paris and from there to Berlin. Then back for home. I am using a bike over here because I have been told Europeans are tight-wads and won't give you free rides in their autos."

"When I get back home I am going to begin seriously to prepare myself for the ministry."

Style Revue To Be Given Last Time

Large Audience Sees Second Showing Of Pageant Presented By Merchants

A large and appreciative audience composed of persons from Appleton and vicinity exhibited their enthusiasm Thursday evening at the second presentation of Appleton fashion pageant and style revue in Lawrence Memorial chapel. The annual revue by which means the newest apparel is displayed was presented by six Appleton merchants in connection with a pageant of Egyptian background arranged especially for the occasion by Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Bannister. The performance will be given for the last time at 8:15 Friday evening.

The special feature of the performance which had much to do with its success was the splendid music presented by the 20-piece orchestra under the direction of Percy Fullinwider. The scenes of the pageant in which Cleopatra is played by Mrs. J. E. Bannister and Hadji, the prophet, by Harry Oaks represent the season's spring, summer, fall and winter in succession. In the scene of the respective seasons solo and group dancing again played an important part and each number was enthusiastically received. The costumes worn by the dancers, gorgeous in the cases of the striped Egyptian court costumes, were the latest in the line of the performance.

The style revue was introduced by the magic command of Hadji, the prophet, who caused the fashions of today to spread before the vision of Cleopatra. Forty-five men, women and children displayed the newest styles for the fall and winter of 1924 by passing in revue.

The garments and shoes worn by the models were displayed by Burton-Dawson Co., Matt Schmidt and Son, Gloumann-Gage Co., Geenen Dry Goods Co., Novelty Boot Shop, and Pettibone-Peabody Co.

The proceeds for the three performances will be given to Appleton Women's club.

COOLIDGE SEEKS MIDDLE COURSE IN SHIP PROBLEM

President Asks Opinions Of Various Factions On U. S.
Merchant Marine

The impression which disinterested observers got is that influences have been at work to persuade the president to supercede the plans of the shipping board with others more favorable to the disposition of the ships in quicker time to private owners. The United States Chamber of Commerce, headed by Julius H. Barnes, an intimate friend of Secretary Hoover who is to be a member of the president's special committee, openly states that it believes the government should get out of the shipping business. The president is himself not a government ownership man and in the face of the conflicting currents he is proceeding with extreme caution hoping he can reconcile the various viewpoints to the practical facts of the situation.

24 DON TOGS FOR FIRST WORKOUT OF LEGION GRIDDERS

Ashe Expects Several More Regulars To Apply For Places On Team

Kaukauna—A squad of 24 candidates for the American legion football team turned out for practice for the first time Thursday evening. The men gathered at the legion hall where uniforms were distributed and then went to the playgrounds for a short workout. The first practice consisted of short dashes and ball passes in order to make the men accustomed to handling the leather. W. F. Ashe, coach, said there are several more regulars from last year's team besides a lot of new material which will show up as work on the team progresses and that in all there will possibly be more candidates than can be handled comfortably. The practice schedule calls for another short workout Friday evening to loosen up the stiffness from the first night's practice. According to present plans, the squad will be taken out on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday evenings. It is probable the first game of the season will be staged on Sunday, Sept. 30, a week after the closing of the baseball season. Practice will be held on the municipal playgrounds until after baseball season, when flood lights will be installed on the grandstand of the ball park by the city electrical department and the squads will be transferred there. Extensive use of the forward pass will be in vogue, it is thought, and the players will be drilled thoroughly in that method of football.

Strong Lineup Probably Will Be Arranged For Scrap With Menasha

Kaukauna—The Electric's opportunity to slip into third place in the Wisconsin State baseball league was greatly increased by its win last Sunday over Marinette-Mengonine and by Appleton's defeat. In the two remaining games to be played, Stump's followers may possibly be able to pull the trick, although it is generally conceded that Menasha will be a hard team to beat. President John Coppes has not announced his plans for Sunday's lineup but it is supposed that he will run the regular team in an effort to give Menasha a good battle. For the last home game, with Oshkosh, however, it is probable another group of Stormy Kromer's home league recruits will be given a trial.

TEACHERS WILL MEET AT NEW H. S. SATURDAY

Kaukauna—All teachers are expected to be present at the first teachers' meeting at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon in the new high school to arrange programs in readiness for the opening of the public schools next Monday morning. Enrolment of students from the ninth to the twelfth grades was held Thursday morning to Friday afternoon and most of those who will enter visited Park school and made arrangements for their studies. School will open at 8:30 Monday. The rooms will be designated with brass plates. It is expected the routine will begin without much difficulty. The new school is considered among the prettiest buildings in the state, a fact which probably will furnish an incentive for real honest effort on the part of the students.

STATE DRY ARMY READY TO FIGHT

Madison—The dry forces in Wisconsin are preparing to wage a finish fight with the wet element in the next political campaign. Dr. D. L. McBride, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league, declared in a recent speech in which he expounded for the first time since taking active direction of the league his political attitude. "The great, supreme crisis of the prohibition movement in Wisconsin is now here," Dr. McBride declared. "Upon the action of the christian men and women, the patriotic citizens of Wisconsin of the coming week and months will depend whether the bushels of lines shall be smashed and their forces forever crushed or whether the drys shall hold the white flag and surrender the state to lawlessness and anarchy. "Prohibition, with the people and the whole machinery of government behind it, is our goal. Under their oath every officer and citizen is bound dry. His oath to uphold the constitution implies that America and Wisconsin will not rest until she is dry to the bone. Treasonable officers should resign or be dismissed. Disloyal, lawbreaking aliens in fact or spirit should go to jail or back to the land from whence they came. "The drys are massing and organizing their forces in every county and community to secure the enforcement of the law. An educational campaign is on a deep, permanent dry sentiment is being built. Then officers will prosecute, jurists convict, judges mete out proper sentences, making it safe for society rather than for the criminal. Then general law observance will supersede prosecutions. "The deceptive wet slogan is 'Light Wines and Beer Now. No Saloons Ever.' They would bring back 3 per cent beer and 15 per cent wine. That's the Trojan horse. Within are whiskey, gin, rum, gambling and vice of the old saloon. Beer and wine would not decrease, but increase drunkenness and crime. It would eliminate nothing except sobriety, virtue and morality."

BERG HURT WHEN HORSE THROWS HIM

Leeman Man Is Unconscious For Nine Hours After Accidental Fall

Leeman—Consciousness returned to Harold Berg about 3 o'clock Thursday morning, nine hours after he was injured when thrown from a horse. His condition now appears quite favorable. Berg was returning home about 6:30 Wednesday evening from Mrs. Knack's farm, where he had been helping to build a silo. He was riding horseback and was thrown from the animal. Mrs. Knack's little son saw him fall and summoned help. The rider was unconscious when picked up and remained so for about nine hours. William Lind, Mrs. Berg and Fred C. Ames came to his assistance and he was taken home in Erwin Branger's automobile. An examination by a Black Creek physician indicated that no bones were broken. Berg suffered a severe wound over one eye. William Schumacher of Little Chute and Joseph Smith of Greenville, have returned to their homes after a two days' visit at the Wisconsin Dells. The same is true of apples, although

Autoist Worse Than Eve When Apples Around

Special to Post-Crescent—Hortonville—People owning anything resembling a grape vine or apple tree these days find it almost necessary to sit on the porches of their homes with a rifle and pick off the trespassers, as they did in former days. For some unknown reason, people are bound to get grapes, by fair means or foul. They do not ask, but start picking as soon as they find the fruit, and if a suspicious looking character is seen approaching they hop into their cars and speed away. Sometimes, however they fail to get away and then are compelled to listen to a good "hawling out" and sometimes more from the owner. The same is true of apples, although

If the orchards are quite near the farmhouse, tourists are seldom brave enough to venture in, unless no one is home.

Drills Wells—A. Goldbeck is drilling a 5-inch well for J. D. and R. E. Watson at their homes on Hancock st. He is down about 100 feet and expects to go 200 more before the desired flow of water is reached. The Misses Louise and Ethel Stadler of Appleton, spent Wednesday and Thursday at the Wisconsin Dells.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Krueger, 499 Commercial, have returned from a visit with relatives in Milwaukee and Kenosha.

Tailor Makes Valuable Find

"After spending $300 for medicine and doctors in four years without getting any benefit for stomach trouble and bloating I was induced by my druggist to try May's Wonderful Remedy and must say that a 31 bottle has done me $500 worth of good." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the central mucus from the intestinal tract and bays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. ## CONGRATULATE DRUGGISTS ON BRINGING DR. THACHER'S TREATMENT TO STATE

REMARKABLE RESULTS ACCOMPLISHED QUICKLY

Better Than a Vacation For That Tired, Nervous, Worn-Out Feeling—Quickly Revives That Delightful Feeling of Strength, Energy and Vigor.

"If Dr. Thacher had come here and treated difficult cases of indigestion, constipation, nervousness, acid condition of the blood, rheumatism and the many tired, worn-out, peopless symptoms of an overtaxed stomach, could anything be fairer than his offer to refund all costs in any case should the patient fail to gain complete satisfaction and relief?"

"This, in effect, is what the Thacher Laboratories are doing. They are offering to the people of this section Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup prepared from the now-famous prescription used by the noted specialist in treating cases like those described above. It is an excellent expression of the faith they have in Dr. Thacher's prescription; for, unless they knew what it had done in thousands of such cases, they could not afford such an offer. They could not make this sort of a guarantee were they not certain that it would continue to bring the same quick relief, or that it would help men, women and children regain strength, vigor, energy and better health."

GENTLE GRATITUDE "The druggists of this city and surrounding section are to be congratulated on bringing this thoroughly tested treatment to the people of Wisconsin. I know personally of the remarkable results accomplished in the East, and I have already heard of these same quick, pleasing results right here in Appleton."

CONGRATULATIONS like this continue to pour in. Heartfelt gratitude is expressed by those who have been quickly benefited—many of them had repeatedly tried other medicines without gaining relief. And the group of prominent druggists, who were respon-

A NEW KIND OF HEALTH WEEK IS NEEDED

This is the time of year when lots of people are neither very sick nor very well—sort of half way between. Even a vacation often fails to keep them from feeling tired-out, headachy, easily upset with indigestion after meals, worn out and nervous before the day's work is done and often constipated. During this season run-down and over-worked people don't get refreshing sleep nights and wake up feeling dull, tired and sickly.

What we need is a new kind of health week—a week in which these half-sick people can know once again how fine it feels to enjoy and digest tasty food, to sleep at nights like a child and wake up mornings feeling fine as silk, and to enjoy the old-time strength, vigor and "pep."

AN INVIGORATING TONIC Take a good tonic as your doctor would advise. Build yourself up! Let Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup nourish and strengthen you and do for you what it has done for thousands. Win back your strength and vigor your ambition and spirit, your energy and "pep."

ELLENBECKER SEES FAIR CROP AHEAD

Drouth Did Not Ruin Clover Seed Yield—Farmers
Are Optimistic

BY W. F. WINSEY

Appleton, Route 3—John Ellenbecker has cut his seed clover. He says that owing to the drouth the stand is not good but the heads are well filled with seed.

Mr. Ellenbecker has three acres of early and late cabbage that is thrifty and promises a big yield. He also has three acres of sugar beets that are up to the standard of the best years. His hay crop consisted of 28 tons of red clover and he threshed 485 bushels of oats from 13 acres.

Mrs. Joseph Ellenbecker says her farm will have a splendid crop of corn this year. The silo was filled last week, and the farm has four acres of good cabbage, not injured by worms or stump rot. Their oats and barley are up to the average of former years. The family now is milking 13 cows.

Ernest Harp and William Caliebe, patrolmen, are making an attractive runway for pleasure drivers who have occasion to take a spin from Appleton to Seymour, out of the old Seymour that takes its beginning in the Ballardrd and passes through Apple Creek. Five corners and the west central part of the town of Osborn.

By taking this road, the driver avoids the monotony of concrete, the speeding and congestion on other roads, is free to make low time to his destination. He will be surprised to find the road in such favorable condition for travel.

Seymour, Route 4—Al. Ziesemer, contractor, has nearly completed a modern bungalow for Allan Powell.

SEES UPHEAVAL IN EUROPE'S POLITICS

That Europe will experience a complete revolution of political affairs is the opinion of J. S. Smith, Appleton's city planner, who recently returned from the international congress on good roads. Prof. Smith gave his opinion on conditions in Europe at a recent noonday luncheon of the Madison Realty board at the Madison club.

"France is economically ruined and her only salvation is to make Germany pay what is justly due her," is more than right that Germany should be forced to pay when everything that she possesses is intact and the entire northeast part of France is or has been in ruins. She is making rapid progress toward recovery however.

"The Germans have practically given up their policy of passive resistance. It is the general consensus in Germany that the country will soon experience a revolution similar to the French revolution, brother against brother and class against class."

"The future for France especially is dark. Her birth rate is barely keeping even with her death rate while Germany is gaining 28 per thousand."

This farm house will be equipped with all the latest improvements.

Seymour, Route 5—Alvin W. Mielke is now milking ten grade Holstein cows but he has decided to change gradually to purebred Brown Swiss. He has already purchased a purebred sire from Robert Sigl, Isar.

Ellington Church Will Honor 25th Anniversary With Exercises Sunday

BY W. F. WINSEY

On Sunday, Sept. 16, the Evangelical Lutheran Trinity church of Ellington, of which the Rev. E. Redlin is pastor, will celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of the dedication of its building.

The exercises are to begin at 10 o'clock in the morning with a sermon by the pastor. Dinner will be served by the ladies of the church in the basement at noon. The program concludes with a sermon at 2:30 in the German language by the Rev. Benjamin Schlueter of Oshkosh.

Everybody is invited to attend the celebration especially former members of the congregation now living in Appleton, the pastor says.

Back in 1874 the congregation of the Evangelical Lutheran church took its beginning in the farmhouse of Carl Herrmann where 11 people met, effected an organization, drew up and adopted a constitution and elected Carl Herrmann president. Peter Loos and Christ. Riehl, members of that tiny religious group, are still living but the others have died.

The Rev. Mr. Springling of the Center church was called to take charge of the congregation and services were held in the Herrmann home for nearly two years.

Under the direction of the Rev. Mr. Springling, the leaders of the congregation soon began the raising of funds by subscription for the erection of their church building. As a result of their effort a frame building made its appearance on the site of the present building.

The Rev. Mr. Siegler was the first pastor to direct the religious services of the congregation in the new building. He remained four years and was succeeded by the Rev. August Volbrecht who remained nine years. Then came the Rev. William Kanster, who served 16 years.

Meanwhile as the congregation grew from the original 11 members to 80 and as the frame building was not large enough to accommodate the increase, the congregation decided that a larger building was necessary and, under the direction of the Rev. Mr. Kanster, raised funds and built the brick structure 40 by 70 feet, seating 600 people, now in use. It is said that the present building is noted for tastefully colored walls, comfortable pews, beautiful altar and large pipe organ.

The basement is the full size of the church and is used as a place for serving refreshments.

The Rev. Mr. Redlin was called as pastor of this church in 1912 and has been in continuous leadership since that date.

BUILDING KEEPS BAUER BUSY WITH INSPECTIONS

August was again a busy month for the plumbers, as is seen from the months' report by John H. Bauer, city plumbing inspector. During that month Mr. Bauer inspected 272 fixtures, for which he issued permits in the sum of $137. He also issued 25 sewer permits at $2 each, 37 water permits at $1.3 sewer permits at $1 and 1 water extension permit at $1. The total receipts for the month were $228.

The fixtures which were installed in August under the plumbing inspector's orders were 61 closets, 59 floor drains, 49 wash basins, 4 conductors, 54 sinks, 40 bath tubs, 3 laundry tubs and 2 shower baths. The numerous building activities were partly responsible for the many plumbing installations.

GASOLINE RAIL CAR MEETS TRIP TEST

A gasoline railway car made by Onetda Manufacturing company, Green Bay, which uses two gasoline motors for its power, made its trial trip from Green Bay to Pulaski with about 25 guest-passengers. The car has been much talked about by railway officials and after the trip Sunday those who represented various railroads said they would make a favorable report.

Even the one per cent climb near Duck Creek was made by the car with the speed increasing from 20 to 25 miles when the engines were thrown into second speed. At times on the run the car went as fast as 45 miles. The first commercial car of this kind will be turned over to the Chicago and Northwestern railway. It is the plan of the company to turn out two cars a week either from old or new coaches.

CONSTITUTION 136 YEARS OLD MONDAY, SEPT. 17

Of what significance is the date Sept. 17? Ask almost anyone about the significance of July 4 and he will tell you, but few people realize that on Sept. 17 the constitution of the United States will be 136 years old. A Constitution Anniversary society has been organized in Chicago with Harry F. Atwood as president to see that the day is celebrated in an educational way. An effort will be made to have programs on the aims and meaning of the constitution on that day.

WALL PREVENTS FLOOD NEAR NEENAH HOSPITAL

Flood conditions on lowland near the Neenah dam south of Theda Clark hospital are to be remedied by the building of a sea wall which is now in progress. Every spring a great

Rheumatism Is Gone Says Milwaukee Lady

"It has made me feel just like a new woman," is what Mrs. Emma Holzinger, 307 Cedar St., Milwaukee, Wis., recently declared the Tanlac treatment has accomplished for her.

"I had rheumatism so bad I couldn't stay on my feet, and such pains in my back I couldn't lie on my right side. I also suffered from catarrhal condition of the stomach, which took away my appetite and caused indigestion and very painful bloating. Headaches and dizziness would almost make me fall at times, and I was so nervous it would be hours before I could go to sleep nights."

"Tanlac has banished my rheumatic pains, backache and stomach trouble, my nerves are steady, and I go to sleep almost instantly upon retiring. I am now up and about, doing all my housework, and feeling fine in every way. Tanlac hasn't an equal."

Do You Use 400 Gallons of Gasoline per Year?

If you have ever called True Gasoline "high priced," here's something to think about.

Over a period of years, National authorities have officially named less than 400 gallons as the average quantity of gasoline consumed per car per year. The cost of

Wadham's True Gasoline

ran five cents, at most, per gallon higher in first cost than "cracked" kerosenish fuel of common brand.

That was less than twenty dollars for Mr. Average User's whole year of better running and car protection

Saying nothing about the EXTRA MILEAGE, could you call a dollar sixty-six per month a "high price" for year 'round easy starting, for full, steady power, for freedom from jerks and misses, and above all, for protection from the ruinous oil-spoiling drench of kerosene that makes every mile a menace with poor "cracked" fuel?

BUICK TELLS HOW TO BUY YOUR CAR

Five Factors Named Below Are Guide To Choice Of Correct Automobile

There are five factors that should influence the buyer in the selection of his motor car. First of all, what are the manufacturer's facilities and policies, as evidenced by the manufacturer's standing in the industry? Second, what are the production plans and the system of manufacture? These are important, for they bear on value received for money expended. Third, is the chassis mechanically correct in preserving the proper relation between power and load, comfort and safety, performance and durability? Fourth, does the manufacturer furnish a body type exactly suited to the buyer's motoring requirements? Fifth, what is the extent of the manufacturer's desire, once the car is bought, to guarantee the owner an uninterrupted transportation? One would hardly be justified in purchasing a motor car solely on the strength of one or even several of these factors. Only when the five are properly coordinated is true motor car efficiency found. Thorough consistency in all of these factors is seen reflected in Buick for Nineteen Twenty-four. Manufactured in the efficiently organized Buick factory according to policies and principles that have been distinctly Buick for many years, the new Buick reaches the highest pinnacle in its development. Critical and experienced motorists who have in their own way considered these factors, have found that the purchase of a Buick is an investment in a perfectly developed, well-engineered motor car, precisely manufactured and backed by authorized service.

SKILLED LABORER LARGE CAR BUYER

Distribution Report Of Herrmann Motor Car Co. Reveals Sales Barometer

Skilled labor as a class became the largest buyer of automobiles during the month of June, according to the distribution figures of the Palmdale Motor Car Company. The distribution report received this week from the factory by Herrmann Motor Co., showed that mechanics purchased more than twice as large a percentage of cars as the next class. The laboring class figure was 15.5 per cent. The next class was merchants which bought 7.4 per cent. These figures can be taken as a barometer of automobile sales throughout the United States," says the suggestion of Mr. H. M. Jewett, president of the company in announcing the distribution. "The wide range of the Paige products," he continued, "brings them before every buyer. There is the Jewett in the medium priced field and then the Paige in the quality field of the $2,000 class."

HUPP CAN'T MAKE CARS FAST ENOUGH

Popularity C. New Models Taxes Factory Beyond Its Usual Capacity

Continued record production by the Hupp Motor Car Corporation makes it certain that its high business volume of 1923 will be surpassed this year before the end of October, with its entire manufacturing facilities still engaged at capacity in an effort to keep pace with sales. The reception which has been accorded the new Hupmobile models has been so enthusiastic that the demand exceeds the factory capacity to manufacture. It was learned at its executive offices in Detroit yesterday. The new models were introduced early in August. September production has been set at 4400 cars. As a consequence of this demand, Hupp has been recently running at capacity six days per week, in place of the regular five-day working week prevalent in the manufacturing end of the automotive industry. Instead of the usual 96-hour day five days a week with five hour half day on Saturday, the Detroit plant, for instance, has for six weeks been working 104 hours five days a week and 8 hours of Saturday. This makes a week of 594 hours, eight more than heretofore. Sales of Hupmobiles for 1923 were set at 40,000 last November. The extent to which this volume will be surpassed is governed only by the ability of the factories to produce cars, declares O. C. Hutchinson, general sales manager. Orders already placed by distributors for themselves and their dealers have resulted in instructions being issued to speed up production in every possible channel as far as can be consistently done and still conform to Hupp's well known standards of manufacturing precision. Due to recent additions and increased effi-

CADILLAC PUTS ON 4-WHEEL BRAKE

Offers New Engine And Body Improvements On Models For 1924

Following the most successful year in its history, coupled with the most satisfactory car it has yet produced, the Cadillac Motor Car Company has announced a new type, the V-63, continuing the V-eight principle and embodying more fundamental improvements than any of its previous eight cylinder cars. In substance, the announcement, authorized by H. H. Rice, Cadillac president and general manager, is as follows: As the culmination of nine years' production of cars equipped with 80 degree V-eight engines, the Cadillac Motor Car Company announces a new type, the V-63, embodying the fundamental perfection of the V-type, 80 degree, eight cylinder engine, inherently balanced, and with major parts improved; a system of four-wheel brakes developed and perfected by Cadillac engineers; a frame made even more rigid; a completely redesigned and improved front axle; bodies further refined, more spacious and unsurpassed for quality and appearance even in the costliest of custom coach work; and many other improvements. The new engine marks the practical accomplishment of an engineering feat long considered "impossible" by automotive engineers—the inherent balancing of the reciprocating parts of the V-type, eight-cylinder engine. With this inherent balance, the V-63 retains and combines all the obvious and admitted advantages of the short, rigid crankshaft and crankcase, giving maximum rigidity in the engine structure and economy of chassis space, coupled with hitherto unknown smoothness of operation. The inherent balance of the reciprocating parts in the V-63 engine is the result of a new arrangement of the throws of the crankshaft. In the new crankshaft the four throws, or cranks, are in two planes at right angles to each other, instead of all in one plane, as in the previous V-eight practice. That is, when viewed from the end, if the crankpin at the forward end of the crankshaft be considered to correspond with the figure XII on the dial of a clock, the second, third and fourth crankpins would fall at three, nine and six o'clock, respectively. Compensators, or counterweights, are used; and these, in combination with the new arrangement of crankshaft throws, cause the whole assembly—crankshaft, connecting rods and pistons—to operate with the smoothness of a balanced flywheel. With this rearrangement of the crankshaft throws, a new firing order has been established. The same firing interval is maintained, uniformly spaced, as on all Cadillac eight-cylinder engines. Primarily for the purpose of an increased margin of safety, and after a most careful study of the situation both at home and abroad, the engineers have developed a Cadillac system of four-wheel brakes including many new features. In addition to effectiveness under all conditions, the ends attained have included simplicity of design and a need for adjustment much less frequent than in a two-wheel brake system. After a first-hand study of the field coupled with exhaustive laboratory research and experiment, every proposed feature of the new braking system was subjected to the most severe and grueling road tests, under every conceivable condition of hard and treacherous going. In designing the V-63 four-wheel brakes, Cadillac engineers have combined internal brakes on the front wheels with the external brakes on the rear wheels, so that the effect of the expansion of the front internal brake drum is neutralized by the opposite effect of the expansion of the drums of the rear external brakes. The hand brake, as in previous Cadillac types, operates the rear internal brakes. This gives two complete braking systems, each independent of the other in every detail of mechanism. In body lines, the V-63 presents pleasing developments by Cadillac and Fisher designers, with improvements and refinements such as are usually looked for only on the coastlines of custom coach work. From the body builder's point of view, the V-eight engine, because of its shortness, leaves the greatest amount of space on the chassis for body purposes without an unusually long wheelbase. The 122 inch wheelbase is continued in the Cadillac V-63 and the designers have succeeded in giving even more leg room, elbow room and head room both in the front and rear compartments. For because of the skillful blending and proportioning of the lines the bodies appear lower than formerly. On the instrument board, a new grouping of pressure gauges and ammeter permits the use of a full-size eight-day clock independent of the speedometer, and produces a simple and artistic effect. Agency methods at the corporation's body plant at Racine, Wis., more bodies are now being built than ever before. Capacity output is to be continued indefinitely at all plants, in the order, in an effort to fill current and back orders and enable the selling organization to display a full line of cars.

NEW FORDS HERE FOR INSPECTION

Higher Radiators Now Standard On All Types—Other Improvements Made

The first of the new type Ford cars which recently arrived in this city are now on display at the show room of August Brandt Co. local Ford dealer. The higher radiator, now standard in all Ford types, has brought a general improvement throughout the entire line and the new radiator apron blending with similar apron effects on the fender gives the front of the cars a highly finished appearance. The touring car shows a decided improvement having a more streamlined effect. It is lower in appearance, a feature adding much to the attractiveness of the slanting windshield and one-man top. The Ford runabout is likewise much improved and looks more sturdy. The coupe is entirely new with body design and construction. There is a more trim exterior appearance, more comfortable seating arrangement and greater luggage carrying capacity. From the dash there is a graceful sweep in the cowl to the radiator. The doors are wide and heavily framed. A large compartment at the rear gives increased room for luggage and the new type rear fender is more secure. Ventilators in the cowl and a view over the windshield add to the exterior appearance, effecting a high quality aspect. Interior arrangement is most convenient and the upholstery is choice. The seat is deeply cushioned and the cushions are divided making it easy for filling the gasoline tank which is under the seat. A small recess shelf at the rear of the seat is handy for small parcels. The door windows are equipped with revolving type window regulators permitting any desired ventilation. Doors are provided with locks. The higher radiator has greatly enhanced the beauty of the Ford Four door sedan. This car, highly popular since its introduction a year ago because of its low, graceful lines, now presents a more sturdy appearance. Another feature coming as the result of the change made in the front of the car, including larger cowl, radiator and hood, is that occupants of the front seat are afforded more space, thus insuring added riding comfort. Many other little improvements and refinements are noticeable including revolving type window regulators for all door windows and a dome light for illuminating the interior.

HOW YOUR STORAGE BATTERY WORKS

The three principle units of an electric starting and lighting system are the starter—the generator—and the storage battery. Practically every automobile driver will say, "We know that, tell us something we don't know." But very few people have a clear idea about the way these three units work together to give the result that most of us would be lost without. A simple explanation of this intricate part of the modern car can be made by comparison with a common water system. Imagine a tank of water being filled by a pump forcing water through a large inlet pipe. The speed of the pump, therefore its pressure, keeps water going into the tank. If the pump slowed down to the point where the weight of the water already raised to the tank would be greater than the force of the pump, water would return through the same pipe pass the pump and drain tank. For this reason a check valve is placed under the pump, and this check valve is analogous to the RETURN CUT-OUT SWITCH that prevents the storage battery sending current through the generator when the car is running slowly. So much for the first comparison. The water stored in the tank will turn a large water wheel or motor if a sufficiently large pipe is used to let the water to the motor. Or it will operate several smaller motors with the use of small pipes. This is comparable with the action of a storage battery when it operates a starting motor on an automobile through a large cable that permits a greater supply of current to be used at one time. The storage battery also operates the lamp and spark plug when the proper switches are opened, quite the same way as the tank of water turns the smaller water motors. If the demand of the motors being operated by the water supply in the original tank should be excessive and greater than that supplied by the pump, it is evident that the tank will soon be emptied and the motors cease to operate. Again the same thing happens with the automobile, when the starter and lights are used excessively and more current is taken from the storage battery than is supplied by the generator. A leak in any of the wires and connections about the car would contribute to the same effect as would a leak in the pipes of the water system described above. The generator must have an output in excess of that required to operate the starter, lights, and ignition, to take care of the normal "leak of efficiency" that any mechanical equipment must incur. That loss is due to the energy consumed in the operation of the generator itself, to the losses by friction and other causes and represents about twenty per cent of the total electricity absorbed by the battery.

Don't be so cruel as to leave your dog at home when you take your annual auto tour. It's just as easy to find room for him as it is for the baggage. See what a California tourist did. He set up a collapsible dog house in back, where Fido can rest comfortably while the car is going.

HERE ARE DODGE 1924 FEATURES

Changes Made Both For Increased Beauty And Efficient Operation

Important improvements have been made in the construction of Dodge Brothers motor cars. The rear spring is underslung and semi-elliptical in type. It is increased to 55 inches in length—ten inches longer than the old spring. Riding ease is now a feature of Dodge Brothers cars. The front springs have been increased from 13 1/2 to 2 inches in width and are composed of more leaves of thinner stock, thus greatly improving riding comfort. The wheelbase has been increased from 114 to 118 inches. The front axle has been strengthened for greater margin of safety and redesigned to afford greatest possible ease in steering. The hand gear shift has been moved forward, thus allowing easy access to the driver's seat. The throw of this lever has been shortened to facilitate easy gear shifting, while a strong spring prevents the lever from rattling on its seat. A lock built-in the transmission locks the gears in the neutral position. This lock has been approved by the Underwriters' Laboratories.

WHEEL

The steering wheel is of moulded fibre construction and holds the spider firmly without the aid of screws. The spark and throttle hand levers are shorter, conveniently located, and are retained by friction on a handsome nickel quadrant. The horn wire is now carried inside the steering column. The hand brake lever has been moved forward out of the way in an easily reached position. The fuel tank is well protected beneath the large rear cross member on the frame. The frame has been strengthened and lengthened. It is made of 6 inch channels instead of 4 inch to give more rigid support to the body. STREAM LINE HOOD The hood has been redesigned to conform to the radiator and body lines and has louvers in the side panels. New hood fasteners hold the hood firmly in place, preventing any tendency to rattle. Wider and longer running boards, of all steel construction. The splash shield presents a straight unbroken line harmonizing with the graceful stream line body. The instrument board harmonizes with the body lines, the instruments being grouped on a raised panel. The lighting lever of the switch has been increased in length, facilitating control of the lights while driving. The new head lamps of the "drum" type are artistic and distinctive in design. A combination tail lamp and step signal lamp is mounted rigidly on the license plate bracket on the rear cross member of the frame. This lamp operates automatically and conforms to the requirements of all the states having lighting regulations. The windshield is equipped with weather strips that are absolutely rain-proof and give perfect protection from storm and cold weather to occupants of the front seat.

Battery Needs Attention Now

By J. J. Burke, Langstadt-Meyer Co. Now is the time to have your storage battery and the electrical system on your car looked over to see that all is in good working condition for fall and winter driving. Your battery and electrical equipment must be working alright at present but an inspection now will insure better starting power and do away with the usual trouble that comes with cold weather driving. If the battery, starting motor and generator are all in perfect condition and working in harmony you will not have any trouble starting your car in cold weather.

REO PLACES LOCK ON TRANSMISSION

New Device Is Expected To Be Means Of Fooling Auto Thieves

A transmission lock which provides positive protection against theft, and which also eliminates one of the dangers associated with the operation of a car in cities where there is no room for making mistakes is a real friend of the motorist. Either of these qualities in a lock would mark it as a worthwhile piece of equipment, but when these two are combined they make an exceptionally valuable addition to the car. Such a lock is now being used on all Reo passenger models, according to announcements received by Mr. Schneider of the Appleton Reo Co. Reo representatives here. The new locking device has been coming through on the cars received from the plant during the past few weeks and will continue to be regular equipment on all models. It is understood, "That the lock is the last word in protection against theft will be readily admitted when it is understood that it has been given a Class "A" rating by the underwriters' laboratories where it has been tested," says Mr. Schneider. "This means that the owners of cars equipped with the device secure the maximum discount in premium for insurance against theft. "Aside from protecting against loss, however, it checks up a common practice of drivers which has in recent months caused numerous serious accidents—that of operating the starter when the car is in gear, and thus causing the car to leap forward striking anything or anybody in its path. "With this lock on the car, it is impossible to operate the starter unless the car is in neutral; and—along the same line—it is impossible to lock the car unless the shifting lever is in neutral position. "Regular use of the lock is practically assured since it is necessary to use the key only for releasing it. A Yale lock is built into the device, and the key for this may be carried on a key ring since it is only used long enough to release the mechanism. It has been found that, where there is the necessity of using a key to lock the car, the driver will often neglect to do it because of the bother, but that where the locking is easily and automatically accomplished he will take the precaution mechanically. "To lock the car, a disc which covers the Yale lock must be given a quarter turn, uncovering the lock, after which the starting plunger is pressed down. This causes the disc to be locked in place and the plunger to be held down until such time as the key is used to release them. Gears cannot possibly be shifted. "After the device has been unlocked, the disc again covers the Yale lock protecting it from dirt, and the starting plunger returns to the position from which it is pressed to operate the starting motor. "The amount of tearing down and rebuilding which would be required to get around the locking device is so great that hours would be consumed in trying it. This means that the car is just about as theft proof as it can possibly be made."

CHALMERS PRICES ARE SLASHED OFF

Vice President Barker Reports Big Gain In Business—Sales Doubled Among the events of the week in automotive circles of principal interest to the trade and to motor car buyers is the announcement by Arthur E. The standard 8-passenger touring, the sport

PROSPERITY WILL CONTINUE--NASH

Head Of Kenosha Motor Co. Says Business Horizon Is Of Rosy Hue

"There is nothing on the business horizon that bespeaks anything but continued prosperity for the balance of this year and every indication points to even better business for 1924," said C. W. Nash in a talk to dealers representing The Nash Motor company at Milwaukee this week. "I cannot account for the fact that people have been buying as many cars in August, usually a 'low' month, as they did in June and July. According to all traditions of the automobile industry there should have been a marked falling off in August purchases. But our company sold more cars in August than in July and, according to all indications, we will sell more in September than in August. "This applies in general to all standard cars throughout the automobile industry. Only once before, in 1920, was there any similar volume of sales during the late summer months. "A remarkable fact is that farmers who are supposed to have been hit hard by poor crops or low prices, are buying our cars. This is only one more proof that the motor car has become a necessity instead of a luxury in modern life."

DODGE PLAN CUTS CAR REPAIR COST

Flat Rate Is Based On Scientific Study Of Operations—In Shop

What is meant by "flat rates service?" Much discussion of this subject is heard among motor car owners, but it is evident, from the nature of these conversations, that many have only a vague idea of its real significance. As a matter of fact, flat rates service, as applied by the leading automobile dealers, is not definable in a single sentence. "In the first place," according to M. P. Wolter, local dealer for Dodge Brothers, "it means that a careful study was made of the thousands of operations that might enter into the repairing of a motor car. On the basis of these time-studies, reasonable time allowances for every conceivable service job were established, and the mechanic is required to complete each job within the allotted time. "When an owner brings his car to the service station for repairs," says Mr. Wolter, "we are able to quote him a positive figure for the work to be done. We are also enabled to give him a definite delivery promise, with the knowledge that the car will come out of the shop on time. Thus, the owner has no possible ground for complaint, either as to price of delivery. In short flat rates service means that the service station is able to tell the owner exactly how long it will take to repair his car and the price of such repairing. It permits the selling of service on a business-like basis. "But there is an element of even greater importance to the car owner. The mechanic is paid by the job and, contrives to get it finished on time, that he may start a new job. Naturally he is anxious to make as much money as possible, and such a plan eliminates loafing. A feature of this system is the penalty that requires each mechanic to make good without additional pay, any of his work that is returned because of inferior workmanship. This precludes any possibility of carelessness on the part of the mechanic."

CHEVROLET TRUCK USED IN AUSTRALIA

Daily Newspaper In Melbourne Has Fleet Of Trucks Of This Make

It's a long way to Australia, but under the Ocean telegraph cables and news gets there from all over the world just as quickly as it gets here from that continent. Once the cables arrive, there is just as much energy and thought devoted to making them public as on any paper in North America. This explains why the owners of "The Sun," prominent daily paper of Melbourne, near the southern tip of Australia, decided to motorize their delivery system. They wanted speed in the distribution of their newspapers to news stands. They had practically decided on another make of car when Mr. S. A. Cheney, proprietor of Cheney Motors Limited, Chevrolet distributors in Melbourne, heard about it. He went into action and—talk about speed!—less than one hour—only one hour—he had sold them 16 Chevrolet—12 trucks and four touring cars. The trucks are all painted gray and on their sides each has a rising sun in gold. The trucks are also equipped with nickel-plated radiators. "This fleet of Chevrolets has created a tremendous furore in Melbourne, which is a city of more than a half-million. The cars are on the go at all times in Melbourne and vicinity—an excellent test of dependability and stamina—and they are standing up exceptionally well," according to L. H. Kurtz, Director of Advertising, General Motors Export Company. A large re-order is expected and, if similar sales in the States are any criterion, this is absolutely assured. ATTRACTIVE HOUSE
MADE FROM BIJOU

Entire Structure Redecorated Within And Without—Opens Saturday

When patrons of the new Bijou theatre attend the first performance on Saturday and Sunday, they will find themselves in an entirely new atmosphere. Even as they near the building the light and bright appearance will be a sharp contrast to the drab and dreary aspect of the past.

Under the direction of Frank Cook, a manager of the Exe theatre chain for many years and now owner of the new motion picture house here, the building has been painted an ivory color on the outside. The lobby has been brightened by new lights and the parol trimming has been done in ivory and a tiffany tan. New display cases have been placed at either side of the entrance and several panels on either side of the ticket office.

Among the changes which Mr. Cook has made is alteration of the ventilation system. The fan has been removed from the side of the building, placed behind the screen and connected with a 36 inch pipe which has three shafts running down to the orchestra pit. Through these the foul air is drawn out and the fresh oxygen allowed to circulate. This system insures the theater good ventilation no matter how large the crowd.

The entire theater has been redecorated in the ivory and tan color combination. The walls have been repapered with a tiffany tan while the lower panels are painted in a neutral shade. At the back, new partitions have been built to separate the entrance from the seating space of the house and above these will be hung heavy blue draperies to lend a touch of contrast. The same material will be used to screen off the orchestra pit. In order to avoid delay in opening the theater, the seats have been left the same, although some repairs were necessary.

Last but not least, Mr. Cook has installed the very latest and best type of screen and projecting machines. Two machines have been placed in the loft with all the modern equipment for making the clearest and most steady pictures. The screen is the best grade of Gardner velvet gold fiber. Around it is being built a special shadow box in black which will give the screen the effect of being set deep in a huge frame.

Mr. Cook has spared no effort to make his theater comfortable and attractive. He plans to bring high grade pictures to Appleton for his patrons.

TOO COLD TO MOVE

Coming home from the Combined Locks dance last night, we experienced some difficulty in trying to pass a car, which apparently was stalled, in the middle of a scheduled sidewalk, with only the tall light burning.

By turning on our spotlights, we found two couples all huddled up trying to keep warm, and they absolutely refused to move.

After trying for some time we were at last obliged to turn into the ditch, nearly upsetting our car, in order to pass.

Champ Promises To End Battle With Argentine In One Round-If He Can

Exports Predict Fight Will Not Outlast Fifteen Scheduled Rounds: Firpo Unafraid

New York—The gladiators of the new world awoke in New York Friday morning, ready for a battle to decide whether the Argentine champion of the earth shall remain in North America or cross the equator and become the property of the Argentine republic.

These warriors, Jack Dempsey of the United States, present holder of the heavyweight championship, and Louis Angel Firpo, of the Argentine, scowling chieftain of South American slugs, will step into a brilliantly lighted arena at the Polo grounds at 9:30 o'clock, New York daylight time, or 7:30 Central Standard time Friday night. The main fight originally was set for 10 P. M. daylight time, but it was decided to advance it to 9:30. One of the scheduled semi-finals will follow the main bout. The warriors will be watched by a crowd of more than 90,000 persons, some of whom have come all the way from Buenos Aires to see the meeting.

More than $1,000,000 will have been collected by Promoter Tex Rickard. Half of this amount will go to the fighters, 37 1/2 per cent to Dempsey and the remaining 12 1/2 per cent to Firpo. The rest goes to Mr. Rickard. Some of the spectators have paid

APPLETON FANS FOLLOW THE BIG FIGHT!

Appleton fight fans will have an opportunity Friday evening to follow the Dempsey-Firpo battle at the Polo grounds, New York, round by round, and blow by blow, within a few seconds of the time each move is made. The Post-Crescent has instituted a "fighting party" for this purpose, to be held in front of the Post-Crescent building beginning at 7:30 o'clock tonight, and everyone is invited to attend. Results will be received over the Associated Press wire, and transmitted to the public by means of Irving Zuelke's magnavox.

$27.50 for seats; others will pay $2.50 when the gates are opened at 4:30 o'clock. Still others have paid $150 to speculate, it is said, on the actual time Dempsey and Firpo will be fighting each other cannot exceed 45 minutes.

PREDICT SHORT BATTLE
The bout is scheduled to last 15 rounds of three minutes each. Most experts and enthusiasts predict that it will not last nearly that long. Indeed, some have predicted that there will be less than three minutes of fighting. Most of the predictions of this sort come from those who think Dempsey will win. They are counting on a furious attack from the start with the result that Firpo will be knocked out in the first round. Many others think differently.

Firpo faces his ordeal without the backing of the experts. Virtually all of them expect him to be felled by the fighting machine North America has produced in the shape of Dempsey, but "I am not afraid," says the challenger.

Psychology may play an important part in this physical test tonight. Firpo says he is not afraid. He has been hailed by his countrymen as the "man of destiny." His fellows of the Latin race are counting on him. He knows the great acclaim that will be his should he win the championship. Firpo will fight; everyone admits that and those who say he will win are basing their prediction largely on his downright desire to win. They admit he lacks Dempsey's experience, his speed, his ring generalship; they admit he is somewhat awkward as far as boxing standards go. But they say: "Firpo has a mighty wallop, he can stand being hit hard, and they believe he will be able to take the blows. Dempsey is bound to deliver and then, finally land one glorious punch that will spell his victory."

FIRPO DOGGEDLY DETERMINED
They don't usually come up when Dempsey knocks them down. It is this dogged determination expressed by the Argentine that his backers are counting on.

Dempsey enters the arena with the confidence of the champion. He has proved that he is a great fighter. Four men have been able to hit him. Only Tommy Gibbons, the St. Paul light-heavyweight has been able to withstand his onslaught for a full fifteen rounds since he became champion. Gibbons was defeated even then on points at Shelby, Mont. Last fourth of July, Dempsey's other foe has faced him, for a short time only. First he pounded his way to the title by knocking Jess Willard a terrific pummeling. Then came Billy Mike and Bill Brennan. Both fell before his smashing attack. Then came a dapper Frenchman, Georges Carpentier, popular idol and war hero. But Carpentier was added to the list of the mauler's victims.

Dempsey stared out of the ring for two years until his fight two months ago with Gibbons. Some said he was not the Dempsey of old in that fight, that his man-killing powers were diminished. But Dempsey now says he is in better shape than he ever was. There is none of the bragging in his statement that he expects to win, for he says Firpo is "big and strong and dangerous."

"If I can end the fight in one round, I'll do it," says Dempsey.

The Appleton club continues to hold sway as the best hitting aggregation in the State league. Neenah-Menasha has climbed into second place while Sheboygan is third.

Bull Durham boosted his home run totals to ten while Zelinska made his total eight. Tony Schultz tied Barzén in three baggers. Barzén rapped out another double and broke his rap for the lead in twin sackers with Bues.

Durham holds the lead as the individual batsman. Rush of Neenah-Menasha is hitting an even 400. Wenzel of Appleton is clouting hard for a youngster while the other topnotchers remained unchanged.

MAYEFSKIS, RIVALS PLAY AT KAUKAUNA

Both Local Amateur Teams Meet Comers For Second Time Sunday

Mayefskis' clan and the Appleton Rivals journey to Kaukauna Sunday in an attempt to avenge their defeat at the hands of Kromer's Comers last Sunday. Three of Kromer's best players have loaned to the Kaukauna State league club for tryouts, which weakened the team considerably, but not enough to permit the locals to win in the last games. However, both the Rivals and Regulars have profited by their experience in their losses and by the constant practice of the past week, and are looking a good deal better than they have ever before.

Puzzling Play's

By Billy Evans

THE PLAY
There is a runner on first base. The batsman hits to the shortstop. The hit and run play is on. The shortstop fumbles the ball slightly, and realizing he has no chance to get the runner at second, cuts loose a hurried throw to first to get the batsman. The throw is wild and gets away from the first baseman, and the base umpire believes that it has gone into the player's bench, which according to the ground rule entitles the runner to advance two bases.

The runner from first slid hard into second and slightly injured his ankle. He made no attempt to go to third on getting to his feet. The base umpire waved him over to third and he started to jog to that base.

The catcher of the team in the field recovered the ball and threw the ball to the third baseman, who touched out the runner coming into third.

The ball did not go into the player's bench. The umpire back of the plate so ruled.

THE INTERPRETATION
The mistake in this case must be charged against the umpire.

The base umpire, believing the ball had gone into the bench, waved the runner, who had stopped at second to advance to third.

The player, following the dictates of the umpire, touched with the ball and apparently retired.

Common sense must decide the play. Since the player advanced because the umpire ordered him, there is no reason why he should suffer because the ball didn't go into the bench. The umpire should have sent the runner back to second.

APPLETON FIGHT CARD POSTPONED AGAIN TO OCT. 4

'Gunner' Joe Quinn And 'Navy' Rostand Sought For Opening Fight

Elmer Johnston, fight promoter of Appleton, has been having a run of hard luck in getting the boxing season started here. First he planned to stage his opening card Sept. 14, but owing to the fights at Fond du Lac in which several of the local stars are to appear, he had to call it off. Then he had practically completed arrangements to bring "Gunner" Joe Quinn of St. Paul and "Navy" Rostand together in the squared circle here, with openers equal to the best ever seen in Appleton, Sept. 28. That plan was spoiled after he had secured the consent of the Boxing commission, by the announcement that a dance is to be held in Armory G on that date, and no other hall available.

QUINN-ROSTAND BATTLE
The present plan calls for a card to be staged Oct. 4, with Quinn and Rostand starring. Johnston has opened negotiations with Mike Gibbons, the St. Paul fighter's manager, and Gibbons has given him assurance that he can feature the Gunner as often as he likes at Appleton, as this town gave him his chance and backed him for a winner. The Gunner won a decision over Rostand last year at Des Moines, shading him by a very slight margin. Navy was under a strain at that time, it was said, because he had spent many hours traveling in a train from the east before the meeting and the change of climate affected his pep. Rostand and his trainer, Battling Nelson, are known to everyone who follows the game of the padded gloves, and need no introduction.

If Promoter Johnston's plans in regard to this card ran out, Appleton fight fans will have a chance to see one of the best matches of years.

THREE U. S. STARS SURVIVE IN MEET FOR TENNIS CROWN

Tilden, Johnston And Hunter Reach Semi-finals In National Meet

Philadelphia—Three Americans and one foreigner, South African, came through Thursday afternoon to the semi-finals in the lawn tennis singles championship of the United States at the Germantown Cricket Club.

The Americans to survive were William T. Tilden of Philadelphia, three time national champion; William M. Johnston of San Francisco, holder of the world's title, won this year at Wimbledon, England; Francis T. Hunter of New Rochelle, N. Y., finalist at Wimbledon, England and Brian I. C. Horton, champion of South Africa.

WILLIAMS IS BEATEN
Norton unexpectedly came through in a brilliant five set victory over R. Norris Williams of Philadelphia, captain of this year's American Davis cup team. The score was 1-6, 6-3, 6-4, 2-6, and 6-4.

Manuel Alonso, a dashing, Spanish player, fell before the merciless hammering play of Tilden, who allowed the foreigners but two games in the three sets. Scores, 6-0, 6-0, 6-2.

Johnston, sparing himself for later matches, removed Frank T. Anderson of New York from the tournament with the utmost ease in straight sets, 6-0, 6-1, 1-6.

Hunter followed his sensational play in the second and third rounds by accounting for Robert Kinsey, San Francisco, by his hard driving and doggedly persistent play in the face of his opponent's lousy chop stroke. The scores were, 6-2, 6-4, 3-6.

TILDEN PLAYS NORTON
The four survivors will play the elimination for the finals on Friday. Tilden clashing with Norton, who opposed him two years ago at Wimbledon when the Philadelphia won the world's title, and Johnston meeting Hunter, the later pair being the 1923 Wimbledon finalists.

No better conditions ever attended a championship tournament. A heavy rain in the night had given needed springiness to the turf. A sun of mid-summer heat beat down on the field, but a wind from the northwest tempered it. More than 11,000 spectators saw the matches.

TEX SAYS DEMPSEY WILL HAVE TO WORK HARD TO BEAT FIRPO

More Than 90,000 Expected To Witness Greatest Fight Of Ago Friday

New York—A throng of more than 90,000 will pay approximately $1,340,000 to witness the Dempsey-Firpo bout Friday night, according to Promoter Tex Rickard.

The promoter declared Thursday night that revised figures of bulldozers who erected vast temporary additions to the field showed a total of 90,374 seats. He predicted that every one of these would be occupied and that sufficient standing room would be filled to swell this total by several thousands.

MAY RIVAL RECORD
Thus the crowd may rival the record attendance of approximately 93,000 at the Dempsey-Carpenter bout in Boyle's Thirty Acres, but the "gate," even at its maximum, will not be able to eclipse the record of $1,600,000 set by the "battle of the century."

The promoter announced that but a few thousands reserve seats remained unsold Thursday night, most of them of $16.50 and $22 denominations, with a few of the ringside pasteboards at $27.50. The cheaper reserved sections were sold out. When gates to the arena are opened at 4:30 o'clock Friday afternoon, 5,000 unreserved seats at $3.50 each will be put on sale.

Rickard Thursday night predicted an evenly waged battle.

TEX RESPECTS LUIS
"I look for a slashing fight, with the odds of victory about even," declared the promoter. "I think the experts who pick Dempsey to win easily and quickly are all wrong. Firpo is a big, husky fellow, one of the strongest ring men and hardest hitters I have ever seen. He has proved he can take lots of punishment and come back with a knockout wallop. Dempsey may have advantages in speed, experience and generalship, but he is not the 'superman' that a lot of critics would make him seem. He will have the hardest fight he has ever had to keep the championship."

Minneapolis, N. Y.—Lieutenant Harold J. Brown, U. S. N., piloted a navy Curtiss racer to victory in smashing a world's record for speed, by driving 244.15 miles an hour, or more than four miles a minute, over a kilometer course at Mitchell field.

Pirates Cop Half Of Doubleheader, 6 To 3 While Robins Win, 7-4

Babe Ruth Pounds Out Thirty-sixth Homer When Yanks Win 9 To 5 From Chicago White Sox

Chicago—Pittsburg broke even with the Brooklyn Robins in Pittsburg, Thursday, losing the first game, 7 to 4, and winning the second, 6 to 3. The New York Giants who were idle retained their lead of five games while the Cincinnati Reds who defeated the Chicago Cubs, 5 to 3, in a ten inning struggle, advanced to a position only one half a game behind the Pirates.

Babe Ruth pounded out his thirty-sixth homer of the season in the New York Yankees' game with the Chicago White Sox, and Joe Bush held the Chicagoans to eight hits. The Yankees won, 9 to 5. Babe also hit a single and a double.

The Washington Senators swamped the Detroit Tigers in Washington, 7 to 3, in a game filled with errors in which the home team made three misplays and the Detroiters four.

The Boston Red Sox defeated the Cleveland Indians in an eighth inning rally, 9 to 8. The Philadelphia Athletics defeated the St. Louis Browns in Philadelphia, 3 to 2, in an 11 inning game.

Cincinnati closed its run on the road by taking Chicago into camp in ten innings, 5 to 3, and gaining a half game, thereby cutting down the lead over the Reds to 3 1/2 games.

Herb McQuaid started his first game

for Cincinnati, holding Chicago to one run for eight innings when he was relieved by a pinch hitter.

Danforth pitched a great game for the St. Louis Americans but went down to defeat at the hands of Philadelphia after 11 innings, when Miller's single sent Hale home with the winning run.

Johnson pitched against Johnson Thursday and Walter got the decision over Sylvester when Washington won from Detroit, 7 to 3. It was a free hitting game, the Tigers bagging 12 hits and the Senators 13.

Ted Blankenship lasted less than two innings before the bombardment of the New York Americans who piled up a big lead and easily made it three in a row from the Chicago Americans. Babe Ruth bagged his thirty-sixth homer in the opening frame, which leaves him one behind "Cy" Williams of the Philadelphia Nationals.

Pittsburg and Brooklyn divided a double header, Brooklyn breaking a tie score and winning out in the ninth in the first game. In the second game, Cooper's pitching and the scoring of Max Carey from second base on a sacrifice fly were the outstanding features in Pittsburg's victory. Carey's feat is the second time in the history of Forbes field that a man has scored from the keystone stack on a sacrifice.

Kinks-o-the Links

Must a player's ball lie on the green in order for him to have the right to remove some loose impediment that is on the green and which he feels may affect his next shot, possibly prevent him from holing out?

A player has the right to remove loose impediment from the putting green even though his ball does not lie on the green. The rule states that the player has such a right, in respect of the position of the player's ball. Which would mean that it doesn't matter whether the ball is on the putting green, through the green or in a hazard.

Smith and Jones are playing a handicap match in which Smith is giving Jones a stroke a hole. On a certain hole they both score a 6. Deducting the stroke that Smith is giving him, Jones has a 5 for the hole. Smith had the honor at the hole in question. Does he retain the honor since both had a 6, or does the fact that Jones, less his handicap stroke, had a 5, entitle him to the honor at the next hole?

Jones has the honor at the next hole. The fact that both players made a 6 is given no consideration. Jones, by deducting his stroke allowance, won the hole with a 5 and is entitled to the honor at the next tee.

When a ball is hit by an opponent's ball on the fairway must the ball be dropped or replaced as near as possible to its original position?

It must be dropped. Balls can only be placed on the putting green.

Perhaps you own an Overland
If you don't own an Overland, cut this out and hand it to a friend who does.

The Overland Four engine is of the vertical, L-head type, water-cooled by natural circulation, no pump being employed (thermo-siphon system). Unlike conventional designs, the clutch and transmission gears are lubricated by the engine oil except for some cars produced during 1921 when these parts were separately lubricated.

The piston material is cast-iron and each piston is fitted with three rings and six 3/8" oil return holes under the third ring. A moderate compression of 60 lbs. is carried.

Oil is distributed to all the working parts by a splash circulating system. The fly-wheel acts as a pump to carry oil up to a strainer pocket on the right side of the engine. After filtering, the oil flows through tubes in the crankcase to the main bearings under slight pressure and also to the splash troughs. From these, it is distributed to all other engine parts by the splash created by the connecting rod dipper.

The clutch, transmission gears and bearings, also the front universal joint, receive their oil supply from the spray thrown by the fly-wheel.

When the clutch and transmission gears are lubricated by the engine oil it is desirable, in order to provide the maximum of protection for the gear teeth which often operate under heavy loads, to use as heavy a lubricating oil as can be employed without causing excessive "dragging" of the clutch.

The use of oil return holes in the piston under the third piston ring as employed in the Overland design, tends to prevent any excess oil reaching the combustion chambers and consequently reduces the tendency toward carbon formation. Should carbon accumulate, the moderate compression minimizes the tendency of the fuel to knock.

In cold weather, it is necessary, where distribution of the oil is by splash, to use an oil which will flow freely and readily create a fine spray at low temperatures. Otherwise, some of the working parts may not be lubricated. To minimize the clutch drag due to thickening of the oil on the contact surfaces it is desirable to use a more fluid oil in winter weather.

To meet these special features of Overland Four design, we advise for the engine the use in summer of Gargyle Mobiloil "A" and in winter of Gargyle Mobiloil Arctic. For the transmission of those 1921 models, not lubricated by the engine oil, use Gargyle Mobiloil "C." The same grade should be used in the differential of all models.

Gleason Looks Back On Scandal-Wrecked Team

White Sox Manager Regrets Loss Of 1919 Outfit; Says It Was Greatest In History Of Baseball

BY BILLY EVANS
Chicago—The baseball scandal of 1919 will ever remain with "Klondike" Gleason.

The failure of the White Sox of 1923 no doubt has caused the "Klondike" to do some reminiscing.

Unquestionably the White Sox of this year are the disappointment of the American league race. The Sox are a good ball club, a first division team, yet during the greater part of the campaign Gleason's men have been floundering around in the second division, getting nowhere.

Early in the spring while working in New York I bumped into Catcher Frank Snyder and Pitcher Jack Bentley, star performers of the New York Giants. McGraw's team had just finished a long spring series with the Sox in which the world champions had been pushed to the limit to get the edge.

Chicago has a mighty good club and should be up there," was the opinion expressed by the two Giants. What I had seen of the Sox during spring training in the south caused me to entertain a similar opinion. Gleason had a club that would make trouble.

HOW COLLINS VIEWS IT
Only the other day while talking to Eddie Collins as to the failure of the Sox to be up there, he replied: "We have been off on the wrong foot from the very start and have never hit our stride. I am convinced that if we had won the ball games that we deserved to in that first series with Cleveland at the opening of the season it would have made a lot of difference with our club. All year it has been a case of no pitching when we hit the ball, and when we got the pitching we failed to hit. That is the answer to all our troubles."

Getting back to Gleason and the scandal of 1919. Recently I had the seat adjoining "Klondike" on a trip from Boston to New York. The Sox had been roughly treated by the tail-enders. We had just finished talking about Chicago's failure to win, when Gleason with a tone of sorrow in his voice clearly showed how he felt, remarked:

"If I still had that old gang together we would be winning pennants as easily as we did in 1919. That was a great ball club."

"In my time I have seen a lot of famous teams, the old Baltimore Orioles, the pennant winning New York Giants, the Chicago Cubs of 1906 to 1910, and Connie Mack's great club of 10 years back, but I will take the White Sox of 1919 in preference to any of them."

"There never was a better fielder than Felsch, and I am not excepting Speaker or any of the other famous guardians of the middle pasture. He could do everything, field, run and throw."

MANY A HEARTACHE
"And what a great hitter Joe Jackson was. The big fellow was one of those natural batmen who could hit anything and was always a threat at the plate."

"Talk about great left-handed pitchers, I never saw a better one than 'Lefty' Williams. He knew how to pitch and no left-hander ever had more marvelous control."

"Buck Weaver at third was a wonder. He could make seemingly impossible plays look easy, a natural ball player."

"Eddie Cicotte was the master pitcher who put some thought back of every ball pitched. At first, Gandil could do everything well and Risberg at short, while erratic at times, could be just as brilliant."

"Add to these stars Eddie Collins (never was there a better second baseman) Ray Schalk, incomparable as a catcher, and 'Red' Faber, one of the game's best pitchers, and you have the nucleus for a fairly good ball club."

And having thus spoke, the "Klondike" took out a black cigar from his vest pocket, bit off the end and started for the smoker. The expression that played over his face made it apparent that the scandal of 1919 had caused him many a headache and still rankled within him.

Jahnke's Apple Creek club has scheduled a game with the Bonduol team at Bonduol Sunday.

Last week's contest at Galesburg ended disastrously for the home team, which lost, 11 to 7. A triple play was the feature of the battle, when with three men on the sacks, the ball was pitched to the outfield from where one of the gardeners heaved it to Catcher Schalk in time to catch the Galesburg man at the rubber. Schalk threw to Pitcher Turner who tagged another baserunner, and heard to Schultz at second where another was out. Errors by the Galesburg team helped Apple Creek to win.

ON THE SCREEN

TOM MIX SCORES IN ZANE GREY STORY

Tom Mix, hero of a hundred western films comes to the Elite Theatre today and Saturday in "The Lone Star Ranger," which William Fox has adapted for the screen from the well known Zane Grey novel of that name. And Tom Mix scored the same success as he has with his past performances in this city.

There is not a dull moment in the unraveling of the romantic story of love, adventure and the life of the Texas Rangers who kept the peace of the Lone Star State. Acclaimed by "Tony," the brightest horse this reviewer has ever seen in motion picture, Mix ambles through a series of thrilling sequences.

Billie Dove, the feminine lead, formerly was with Florenz Ziegfeld's Follies at the Amsterdam Roof in New York and her sterling screen qualities speak well of Mr. Fox's selection. Her support is flawless.

The picture was directed and the scenario written by Lambert Hillyer, the well known director recently acquired by the Fox staff.

FINE CAST WITH NORMA IN "WITHIN THE LAW"

Norma Talmadge has never been surrounded by a stronger cast than that which appears in her latest screen production, a pictureization of Bayard Veiller's tremendously popular stage play, "Within the Law," which comes to the Elite Theatre Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Miss Talmadge, of course, takes the stellar part made famous on the stage by Jane Cowd—that of Mary Turner, the little shop girl who is railroaded to jail for a department store theft she did not commit and who subsequently through force of circumstances, joins a gang of blackmailers always keeping "within the law," and becomes the central figure of a stirring romance.

The glittering array that has been assembled for this production includes Jack Mulhall, a star in his own right, who as Dick Gilder, one of the intended blackmail victims, Miss Talmadge's leading man; and Eileen Percy as Aggie Lynch, head of the blackmail band.

Of particular interest is the fact that three members of the cast played with the original stage company of "Within the Law." They are DeWitt Jennings, Lincoln Plummer and Lew Cody.

Parts of importance are also played by Joseph Kilgour, Helen Ferguson, Ward Crane, Leonora Belmont, Catharine Murphy and Thomas Ricketts.

"Within the Law," filmed under the direction of Frank Lloyd, responsible for many big screen successes, is a First National picture.

$54,000,000 IN PROFITS FOR FORD

Automobile Manufacturer Earns That Amount In Four Months' Time

New York—The Ford Motor Co. made net profits estimated at $54,000,000, equal to about $315 a share on its 172,445 shares of stock, in the four months ended June 30, according to compilations made from the balance sheets as of that date.

The period's earnings were at the annual rate of more than $182,000,000, or about $945 a share, compared with a net profit of $119,000,000, or about $690 a share, earned in the year ended Feb. 28, in the 12 months ended February, 1922, the company earned approximately $69,000,000, or about $400 a share.

For the first time, the balance sheets as of June 30 last consolidate the items of good will and cash into an aggregate $230,811,916. For several years past the company has carried good will at $20,517,886. Assuming that there has been no change in the latter figure, the cash item alone as of June 30 last was $210,293,932.

It is a story filled with dramatic situations and human interest appeal. A strong love theme is woven into the play which adds greatly to its general entertaining quality.

Rawlinson gives a human portrayal in the role of the son, Richard, and David Torrance demonstrates his skilled dramatic ability in the role of the austere judge.

Others who have important roles in the play are Esther Ralston, who plays the feminine lead; Alfred Fisher, Lionel Belmont, Mike Donlin and Herbert Forner.

"Railroaded," the Universal screen play now showing at the Majestic Theatre, is a particularly adaptable feature for the debonair Herbert Rawlinson, who is starred in the production.

It is a strong crook drama of the type that Rawlinson plays so well and in which he has attained such popularity with the motion picture public. He has the role of the crook son of a famous English judge.

Richard had left his father's home because the judge had carried the atmosphere of his court into his own home, making it in reality a den of thieves. Richard dropped the family name and became known as Richard Ragland, a noted swindler.

Years later the judge picked up his morning newspaper and saw in a headlines, notice of the escape of Ragland from the Pontonville prison. The judge immediately recognized the picture as that of his own son.

The judge gives up the ambition of his lifetime to make amends to the son whose life he believed he had

Loss To American Legion On July 4 Celebration Will Be More Than $350

A deficit amounting to more than $350 has resulted from the Independence day celebration which was put on by the American Legion, according to the report given Oney Johnston post by C. C. Baker, the general chairman.

The receipts and disbursements up to Sept. 10 show a profit of $44.47, but since there are bills still outstanding for approximately $400, there will be a deficit which Mr. Baker has recommended be paid out of the legion treasury. The general chairman is opposed, he said, to any further solicitation of funds.

"That our primary object was accomplished there can be little doubt," said Mr. Baker after he had gone over the work and expenses of each committee, "if we may judge by the crowd, the greatest in the city's history, and the time the people spent at Pierce park in very evident enjoyment of the entertainment provided them. With the exception of the small boy who burned the seat of his pants with fireworks, there was no serious casualty reported, on which showing we are to be congratulated."

"The financial phase of the proposition was at first, when the real status was ascertained, a keen disappointment to your general chairman in having to report a deficit instead of a surplus as in other activities with which he has been identified in your behalf. In this connection there is an extenuating fact, however, of our post having provided this entertainment without profit which in itself produces any criticism of making money by the charge of exorbitant prices."

"Taken with the fact that not more than 20 per cent of the receipts went out of town, a showing usually the reverse in the case of a circus, carnival or like attractions, our report should convince the citizens of Appleton that Oney Johnston post of the American Legion has continued to merit the confidence and generous support which this community has ever accorded any activity our organization has undertaken."

In explaining the report of J. N. Fisher, who was the treasurer of the fund, Mr. Baker declared that in Oshkosh where a July 4 celebration was put on $3,000 was donated by the merchants and $1,000 by the city and a recent report showed that only $300 was left. He said that the original estimate for the cost of the celebration was under $2,500 while its actual cost was over $6,000. He said that where ever it was possible, the committee had stayed within the amount estimated for it, but that many unanticipated expenses had run up the total.

Following is Mr. Fisher's report of the receipts and disbursements up to Sept. 10:

FOUR BIG DAIRY EVENTS SCHEDULED

Cheesemakers Will Have Opportunity To Attend Important Meetings

By Associated Press
Madison — Badger cheese makers
are looking forward to several events
this fall and winter which will give them opportunity to test the merits of their products in competition with other cheese manufacturers.
Early in October the national dairy exposition at Syracuse, New York,
will attract some Badger cheese men.
Never before have as many prizes

been put up for fine quality cheese exhibits. County fair exhibits and local scoring contests have been unusually numerous this year and many cheesemakers in the various communities have competed in the "show rings" of the cheese industry.
Late October will find central Wisconsin cheesemakers, butter makers
and dairymen gathered at Neillsville for the big cheese convention. Upwards of one thousand dollars will be expended Oct. 24-26 for awards for the encouragement of cheese industry
throughout central Wisconsin according to Miss Linda C. Bruhn, secretary of the organization.

The Wisconsin cheesemakers will gather for their thirty-second annual convention in Milwaukee Jan. 10 and 11, 1924. This meeting will be a grand roundup for the cheese manufacturers of the state. J. D. Sammis of the Wisconsin college of agriculture, who is secretary of the state organization, announces a premium list of over 300

prizes aggregating several thousand dollars in value.
The Southern Wisconsin Cheese-
makers and Dairymen's association

will attract many exhibits of Swiss brick and limburger at its annual meeting at Monroe during this next winter. A substantial prize list is the making for this affair.
